Gas Tax Refund Is Not Likely To Be Renewed, Sen. McPherson Tells Meeting Of Farm Group

The state motor code covering the use of non-licensed farm vehicles on the highways, and the activities of the state legislature concerning farm matters were outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the Adams county farmers association held at the court house.

Cpl. Perry Mann, of Chambersburg, and Sgt. Joseph Temple, of the local sub-station of the state police, gave details of the law regarding use of farm vehicles on the roads. State Senator Donald P. McPherson, Jr., outlined the legislative program.

The Bang's disease vaccination program of the state department of agriculture will be continued, Senator McPherson reported, adding that "the Senate was highly impressed by Miles Horst, state secretary of agriculture. He is getting 100 cents worth of good out of every dollar expended by his department, and the Senate was highly pleased with the programs he presented."

"Dangerous Principle"

The gas refund bill passed by the state legislature two years ago lapsed as of May 31, Senator McPherson said, "and it will in all probability not be restored. Not only was the process of obtaining refunds for tax on gasoline used in farm vehicles not used on the highway necessarily difficult, but the whole idea sanctioned a rather dangerous principle.

"If the farmers should have the gasoline tax returned because the gasoline was not used on the highway then the tax should be returned to the coal strippers, saw mill operators, airplane owners and everyone else who used gasoline for other than the operation of vehicles on the public highways. Under the same principle the person using the Pennsylvania turnpike should be refunded the gasoline tax because the gasoline tax is not used for the upkeep of the turnpike."

Explains Vehicle Law

Senator McPherson added that the legislature plans to make available larger sums of money to the township supervisors for use on roads. Sergeant Temple told the group that "it is not the purpose of the state police to make as many arrests as possible. We are here to help you, and the rules are based on common sense. The regulations are designed to make the highways safer, not to penalize the farmer or anyone else."

In line with this statement, he and Corporal Mann pointed out that "farmers can operate trucks that they use on the farms to go over the public highways with the farm— (Continued on Page 7)

Littlestown ANNUAL SUMMER PLAY PROGRAM IS UNDER WAY

Approximately 30 were in attendance at the morning session and 25 at the afternoon session of the first program of the annual community recreational program held on Monday at the local playground. The weekday programs are conducted by Mrs. Kay Crouse Sentz and Clayton L. Evans, physical education instructors. During the morning session from 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock, the children up to ten years of age played group games, including softball, and made a mold of Littlestown in the sand box. They also entertained themselves on the swings, sliding boards, May-poles, see-saws and other playground equipment.

In the afternoon from 1:30 to 4 o'clock, those ten years and over, made a sand mold of a cat, and made plaster of paris molds of cowboys, and various kinds of animals. A midwest baseball league will be arranged for the boys and a softball league for the girls. The games will be played on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 (Continued on Page 5)

County Pastor Joins Observance Movement

Rev. Richard H. L. Vanaman, pastor of the Bendersville Methodist charge (Bendersville, Wenksville, Orrtanna), today pledged his support to a nation-wide "Freedom Under God" observance of the Fourth of July, sponsored by fifty Americans including former President Herbert Hoover and General Douglas MacArthur.

According to the Rev. Vanaman, the 175th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence will be observed by churches ringing their bells at noon on July 4; by clergymen preaching sermons on "Freedom Under God" on the Sabbath preceding Independence Day; and by millions of Americans pausing on the Fourth of July to read the Declaration of Independence.

CARRIERS ASK COOPERATION OF HOUSEHOLDERS

Gettysburg's letter carriers today made a public plea for homeowners to remember the postman when they lock their screen doors or leave on extended vacations.

The public appeal came following a meeting of Local 889 of the National Association of Letter Carriers held Monday evening at the home of William E. "Johnny" Knox, Breckenridge street. President Wilbur A. Geiselman presided.

When a resident locks his screen door he forces the carrier to take the mail back to the postoffice and bring it back to the home again the next day with the hope that the screen door will be unlocked, and will lead singing.

Slot Or Mail Box

To avoid that problem they suggest that either a mail slot be put in the screen doors, or a mail box be placed on the porch. The carriers added that they are not permitted to drop mail on the porch if they cannot get it into the mail slot, or box, or into the house.

Another problem is that of the person who goes away for an extended vacation without notifying the postoffice or the letter carrier. After the mail box gets full of mail, the rest is placed in general delivery. The houseowner must call for it when he returns home. Even more difficulty can be experienced by the parcel post man, the carriers said. He may make daily trips for some time with the hope that someone will be home during one of the trips so he can deliver the package.

Aid For Vacationers

If the vacationers tell the postman about how long they are to be gone first class mail can be forwarded if wished, or all mail can be held at the postoffice until they return.

Another request made by the postman concerning those writing to persons on vacation. They asked that full and correct addresses be used, including the name of the person whom they are visiting.

Charles Schuchmann, Chambersburg, was authorized at the business meeting to vote for the local group at the state convention August 26 through 28 at New Castle.

BOOTH USED BY MANY VISITORS

"Where is the battlefield?" is the question being asked most often at the new information booth in Lincoln Square. Many visitors who stop there for information have the mistaken idea that the battlefield is a relatively small plot of ground.

The question which usually follows is: "How do we get to the battlefield?"

Many tourists, when informed of the guide service, availed themselves of this convenience, but others said their time was limited to an hour or less, and asked questions on how to see as much as possible in that short time.

Card records were kept of the visitors, number in party, home address, and remarks. Many tourists said the people of Gettysburg "were very cordial," and Gettysburg and the entire state were praised highly.

FIREMEN PARADE WEDNESDAY
Members of the Gettysburg fire department were requested today by Fire Chief James A. Aumen to meet at the fire engine house in full uniform, ready to leave for Westminster, Md., at 6 p.m. Wednesday to take part in the firemen's parade there at 7 o'clock. The local firemen will take two pieces of apparatus.

CALLS FIRE POLICE

Charles W. Culp, Jr., chief of the fire police of the Gettysburg fire company, has called a meeting of all fire police, to be held at the engine house Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock to make preparations for handling traffic and parking for the observance of the 88th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Lots Of Goose Eggs Mean Big Business For Straban Couple

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith

A former hotel keeper and salesman who "by accident" became a Straban township farmer, and who "by another accident" began to raise geese, is now selling ducks and goslings throughout the world. The proprietor of the Goose Gay farms, near Hunterstown, and his wife both thoroughly enjoy farming and particularly the type of farming they are doing — raising about 10,000 goslings and 15,000 to 20,000 ducks per year.

Both are city born and bred.

J. H. Smith, the owner of the farms, tells how he came into the farm business: "I ran a hotel in Asbury Park, N. J., for about 18 years. Then I became a salesman. I was traveling through this part of the country and stopped at the home of F. Mark Bream, on Carlisle street, overnight. Mr. Bream was telling me about a farm he owned that needed a farmer, and how he was having trouble finding one. I told him to quit worrying, he had one right here.

Five packages of food and clothing were sent to the widow of a former Rotarian residing "behind the iron curtain," Doctor Smoke said, adding that three of the five packages have reached the widow.

Mares Sherman reported on the 40th anniversary program held by the Harrisburg Rotary club last Monday with 672 present from 40 Rotary clubs. Past President Sherman also presented Doctor Smoke with his past president's pin.

Acheson Says Red Expansion By Encroachment Must Be Stopped

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson, urging Congress to vote a new $8,500,000,000 foreign aid program, said today Soviet expansion by "encroachment" has "got to be stopped."

Acheson said enlightened self-interest "requires us to make sure that we have strong and reliable friends and allies." The huge foreign economic and arms aid program, he said, is essential to the security of the United States.

As Acheson spoke, before the House Foreign Affairs committee, speculation mounted in Congress over the possibility that a cease-fire in Korea might be in the making. Cease-fire talk followed suggestions made in a radio address Saturday by Jacob A. Malik, chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations.

But Acheson's prepared statement made no direct reference to Malik's proposal that fighting cease and hostile forces withdraw from the 38th Parallel.

The secretary assailed Moscow policies as a threat to the free world. He said Moscow wants to see the United States try to "go it alone."

The arms aid fund faces attack from administration foes. It includes $6,300,000,000 for military aid and $2,200,000,000 for economic aid. For the first time it pulls together economic, technical and military assistance into one bill. Acheson said the points interlock closely.

The Gettysburg fire company's observance of the 88th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Independence Day will open at the recreation park Friday evening, with a carnival which will be held nightly on Saturday and Sunday, through July 4.

The climax of the celebration will be the Fourth of July parade. Parade officials said more than 40 units have already signified their intention of participating. There will be bands, drum corps, firemen's units, civic and fraternal groups and a large number of floats.

Programs for children have been arranged nightly, and there will be fireworks at the recreation park July 2, 3 and 4, at 11 p.m.

Baby Show Saturday
There will be a baby show at the recreation park Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, sponsored by Epsilon Delta chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Brigadier General Guy Stanley Meloy, Jr., a veteran of Korea, will be the principal speaker at the program at the high school athletic field Sunday evening. There will also be a concert by combined high school bands of Adams county.

West Point Graduate

Gen. Meloy is a native of Lanham, Md., where he was born September 4, 1903. He graduated from West Point as a second lieutenant in 1927 and his first assignment was with the 12th Infantry at Fort Washington, Md.

He joined the 27th Infantry at Schofield barracks, Hawaii, in March, 1931. In September, 1934, he entered the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., and completed the regular course in June, 1935, and the tank course in February, 1936. He was then assigned to the 69th Infantry at Benning.

Attends Command School
In September, 1938, General Meloy entered the command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and graduated in June, 1939. He was reassigned to Fort Benning, and then, from September to December, 1941, he was a military officer.

INFECTION OF FRUIT LOOMS

Anthracnose will soon start to infect young fruits, County Agent M. T. Hartman said today in presenting a suggested spray schedule for tomato growers.

The spray program should begin this week, the county agent noted, with the first choice for spray materials being a combination of one pound of Ziram plus two pounds of 50 percent fixed copper. The combination has given good results during the past three years. Hartman noted adding that two pounds of wettable 50 percent DDT powder per 100 gallons of spray may be used in addition for control of potato bugs and flea beetles if they are a problem.

Early blight is present in small amounts in many fields, Hartman said, with the wet weather of the past week favoring spread of the disease. Late blight has not been reported as yet in the fields in Pennsylvania, but has been reported in neighboring states.

Licensed To Wed

Paul E. Eckenrode, Emmitsburg, and Catherine A. Seiss, Thurmont, have secured a marriage license in Frederick.

U.N. Asks Moscow's Terms For Ending War In Korea; Head Of General Assembly Seeks Malik

United Nations, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—General Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam took personal charge today of growing United Nations efforts to determine Moscow's terms for ending the war in Korea.

Entezam arrived late yesterday from Washington with the announced plan of seeing Chief Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik as quickly as possible. Malik startled the world Saturday with a suggestion that the belligerents discuss a cease-fire and an armistice in which the opposing forces would withdraw from the 38th Parallel.

U.N. delegates puzzled by the lack of further conditions and frankly suspecting a Communist trick somewhere along the way, immediately began trying for a fuller explanation of Moscow's stand.

Some Are Optimistic

While some Western diplomats stationed in Moscow adopted a wait-and-see attitude, others expressed optimism that the time might be near for over-all big power talks which might ease international tension. These observers pointed out that the Malik remarks were obviously well calculated in advance with full Kremlin consultation, and apparently were aimed at bringing about some kind of negotiations to end the Korean war. The general consensus among the diplomats in the Soviet capital was one of guarded optimism.

In Washington Chairman Connelly (D-Tex.) of the Senate foreign relations committee said the Malik proposal should be given careful consideration, and not be rejected simply as a piece of propaganda. He added:

"If there is any hope of securing peace by negotiation, let us have it." There have been hints in Washington that the U. S. may feel out Moscow through Ambassador Alan G. Kirk.

Some Washington observers still express the feeling that strings will be attached to the Korean peace bid, such as a part for Red China in Japanese treaty negotiations. There were demands from Washington lawmakers that the U. S. be wary of any appeasement.

Malik Sails July 6

U.N. Assembly President Entezam hoped to see Malik before the Assembly met today at Flushing Meadows, informed sources said. Malik was reported last night slightly indisposed at his summer home in Glen Cove. Malik has been suffering heat trouble for months. He has asked for reservation to sail July 6 on the Swedish liner Gripsholm enroute to a vacation and rest in Russia.

The Korean ambassador to the United States, meanwhile, made it plain his government would reject any cease-fire that does not provide for the complete reunification of the Korean peninsula.

North Koreans Building New Defense Lines; Fighting Is Sharp Along 100-Mile Front

Tokyo, June 26 (AP)—Communist forces showed a will to fight today—on the ground and in the air—after Red China's radio belligerently endorsed a Russian cease-fire proposal.

Sharp clashes spotted the 100-mile front. Red planes made two attacks

MERLE R. FREED OF NEW OXFORD DIES AT SHORE

Merle R. "Pete" Freed, 44, New Oxford produce dealer and president of the New Oxford borough council, died suddenly Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at Atlantic City, N. J., where he had gone as a delegate from the New Oxford Lions club to the Lions International convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Freed and their daughter, Gwendolyn Ann, had accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klunk and children, of New Oxford, to Atlantic City. The group witnessed the parade held in connection with the convention and then had returned to their hotel rooms.

Suddenly Stricken

Mr. Freed lay down across a bed and seemed in his usual health when he suffered a coronary occlusion at about 6 o'clock. He lived for about a half hour after the attack.

A son of Harvey Edward Freed, East Berlin R. D., and the late Minnie Savilla Rudisill Freed, the deceased was born and always resided in Adams county. He was engaged in the produce business in New Oxford for 21 years.

In addition to being a member of town council, he was a member and past master of Hebron lodge No. 415 Free and Accepted Masons, and a member and past president of the New Oxford Lions club. He was also a member of the Hanover Elks, New Oxford Social and Athletic club, the New Oxford fire company, New Oxford Rod and Gun club, Hanover Home association, Loyal Order of Moose of Hanover, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of McSherrystown, Home Association of McSherrystown, Dicks Dam and Welfare association, Lafayette club of York and the New Oxford Evangelical Reformed church.

Funeral On Friday
Surviving are his father, his widow, the former Laura R. Sterner, and daughter, both at home; three sisters, Mrs. Marion Carbaugh, Lancaster; Mrs. Clarence Bittinger, New Oxford, and Mrs. Roger Peeling, Finchburg, Md., and a brother, Henry E. Freed, New Oxford.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Fred F. Feiser funeral home, New Oxford, with the Rev. Archie Rohrbough, his pastor, and the Rev. Howard E. Sheely, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Hanover, officiating. Interment in the New Oxford cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening after 7 o'clock.

RECALLED TO SERVICE

Francis Schuhart, Jr., 24, has been recalled to duty in the navy.

on American B-29 superforts. Twice American and Russian-built jets clashed. One Red MIG-15 was shot from the skies.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme United Nations commander, flew to the front. But he said it was just one of his usual trips—"It had no connection with anything regarding a cease-fire."

Before he returned, a memorandum came out of his Tokyo headquarters raising official doubts about the latest Communist cease-fire proposal. It questioned the suggestion as a Russian "political move" that might give the enemy a military advantage.

No Change In Positions

There was no cessation of firing on the fronts, ranging from the 38th parallel to 20 miles north of it. But there was no noteworthy change in battle lines.

Attacking Chinese captured a key hill position in an early morning fight near Kumhwa, but were driven off by noon in a U.N. counterattack.

Reds launched a series of probing attacks and raked Allied lines with artillery at scattered points.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)
The Hagerstown Braves remain all ahead of the pack in the Interstate league race today although their closest rivals also posted victories.

The Braves defeated the Wilmington Blue Rocks 6 to 2 last night. Andy Bush, veteran righthander, pitched his 11th straight win. The Allentown Cardinals shut out the Harrisburg Senators 4 to 0 on Saturday. Bob Bills' five hitter. The Cardinals are in second place, four games off the pace. Lancaster's Red Roses snapped a three-game losing streak by turning the Sunbury Giants 4 to 2. Mike Nichols pitched eight and one-third innings to get credit for the victory, but he needed the help of all compete for the Alex Smith Memorial trophy and the $250 prize that goes to the qualifying medalist. On Friday, the first day of match play, two 18-hole "sudden death" rounds will be played. After that each match will be at 36 holes, leading up to the final next Tuesday.

The tournament, for which Pittsburgh's Dapper Dan club put up $5,000, is worth $3,500 to the winner and $1,500 to the runner-up. Every player who qualifies for match play receives at least $100 and every one who qualified sectionally for the main event gets his expenses paid.

Walt Dropo Sent To San Diego Club

Boston, June 26 (AP)—Big Walt Dropo, the Boston Red Sox' former slugging first baseman, has been optioned to San Diego of the Pacific Coast league on a 24-hour recall basis.

Dropo, an American league sensation as a freshman last year, and one of the loop's top sluggers, ran into a sophomore jinx this year. One reason was his weakness for a bad pitch.

At San Diego he will come under the supervision of Manager Del Baker, who handled him at Sacramento before he came up to the Red Sox.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Pittsburgh, June 26 (AP)—No foreign golfer ever has won the United States PGA championships. . . . Since the days when Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel proved that it wasn't necessary to be born in Scotland to play good golf, the PGA has been sort of a private party for the home-bred pros — with the single exception of Australian-born Jim Ferrier. . . . A lot of them can't even qualify under the strict rules of the regulations of the organization. . . . When Bobby Locke first visited this country, he was invited to take a shot at the prize. After he became a regular circuit rider, Bobby wasn't asked again and the PGA wasn't moved by heated criticism.

Argentina's Roberto De Vicenzo may be the one to set a precedent. . . . Unlike Locke, the golfing gauchito from Argentina joined the PGA when he started to compete with its members. . . . And, attesting to his popularity as well as his ability, he was given a special invitation to play in the 33rd championship, which begins tomorrow at the famous Oakmont club.

I'LL BE SWITCHED
Pittsburgh baseball fans, who turned out 31,000 strong to see their last place club take a doubleheader from Brooklyn's league-leaders Sunday, tab Branch Rickey's recent trade with the Cardinals as the best deal the Pirates have made in a decade. . . . Ex-Card Murry Dickson won his ninth game of the season in the opener. . . . And Murry has pitched the only three complete games the Pirates have had from their pitchers in their last 17. . . . Then another former St. Louis pitcher, Ted Wilks, did a grand relief job in the second game and Joe Garagiola, Bill Hewerton, Rocky Nelson and Erv Dusak provided the hitting. . . . Maybe it just proves that it isn't a heck of a distance from first place, or that from Bums to Bucs is a chance of only one letter.

UP TO GIANTS TO STOP BUMS FROM RUNAWAY

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pacing the pack by six full games, the Brooklyn Dodgers appear to be in a league all by themselves. They are threatening to make a shambles of the pennant race in the National circuit. The responsibility of halting the Brooklyn runaway rests squarely on the New York Giants.

The bitter interborough rivalry opens a vital three-game series tonight at the Polo Grounds. The general feeling is that the Giants must win at least two out of three to convince themselves, along with the rest of the circuit, that the chase is not hopeless. The rivals clash in another three-game set in Brooklyn next week.

Failed To Gain
Although the Giants won nine and lost four in the west, they failed to gain an inch on the Dodgers.

They did, however, climb from fourth to second clearly to mark themselves as Brooklyn's strongest challenger.

Manager Charlie Dressen has Preacher Roe (10-0), his unbeaten southpaw, ready for tonight. He'll be opposed by Sal Maglie (11-3).

The Dodgers may be without the services of Gil Hodges, the slugging first baseman who leads the majors with 24 home runs. Hodges injured his left instep in Sunday's doubleheader in Pittsburgh and did not see action last night in Brooklyn's exhibition game against the New York Yankees.

In contrast to the National, the American league appears set for a blistering pennant race with Chicago's White Sox, New York Yankees, Cleveland's Indians and Boston's Red Sox all figuring prominently.

One-Game Lead
Their once-comfortable 4½ cushion deflated to one game, the White Sox hope to regain some lost ground in the next two weeks.

The Red Sox open a two-game home stand against the hot Philadelphia Athletics.

The Cleveland Indians, glad to get away from the Yankee stadium, where they dropped three straight to extend their non-winning skein to 11 in a row in New York, are back home to meet the last-place St. Louis Browns.

The Phils take on the Boston Braves in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh engages the Reds in Cincinnati.

In 1950, Americans consumed 169,545,152 gallons of distilled spirits. This is an average per capita consumption of 1.14 gallons.

OAKMONT STERN TEST FOR PROS AS PGA OPENS

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Oakmont, Pa., June 26 (AP)—A golfer who has strong legs and an accurate eye for long putts should win the 1951 Professional Golfers association championship.

That's the consensus of the experts who have tested the hilly fairways and the harrowed and harrowing traps at the Oakmont Country club in preparation for the 33rd PGA tournament, which starts tomorrow.

Oakmont has a horrendous reputation, based largely on scores in the two open championships played here years ago. Back in 1927 Tommy Armour and "Light Horse" Harry Cooper tied with scores of 301 for 72 holes and Armour won the playoff with a 76 to Cooper's 79. In 1935 home-bred Sam Parks, Jr., was the only golfer under 300 for the route, winning with 299.

Bobby Jones and the late Emil Loeffler, Oakmont's greenskeeper, negotiated the course with 68's to share the competitive record. Willie MacFarlane set the 72-hole record of 294, six over par.

The 6,882-yard course has a par of 37-35-72. In spite of those figures, no less an authority than Gene Sarazen, who has played in every PGA championship but two since 1920, calls it "the finest course in the world." And home pro Lew Worsham, who should know as much about the course as anybody, figures a 36-hole score of 141 to 143 should win the PGA qualifying medal.

Worsham picked Australian-born Jim Ferrier, the 1947 PGA champion; Lloyd Mangrum, the slick-swinging veteran from Niles, Ill., and Jackie Burke of Houston, Tex., as the golfers whose games are best suited to scoring on this course.

"And Sammy Sneed always is hot in the PGA," he added. Sneed won the title in 1942 and again in 1949.

Sarazen, arguing that only one of the top three or four players in the nation can survive this grueling test, named Mangrum as his No. 1 choice.

Ben Hogan, two-time PGA champion and recent winner of the National Open title for the third time, passed up this event because he didn't think his injury-weakened legs could stand the long grind.

The program calls for the field of about 140 to compete in a two-day, 36-hole qualifying test. The 63 survivors, plus defending champion Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., will go on into five days of match play, calling for 36 holes a day.

Harper qualifies automatically but the reliever Dale Steen, who came on with the bases full and retired the rest of the way.

Midget Loop To Open Wednesday

Midget baseball under the lights will be introduced to local fans Wednesday evening when the Eddie Plank Memorial Midget league, sponsored by the Gettysburg Recreation association, will stage a pair of games on the Softball field.

Due to increased interest with the resulting addition of more youngsters signing up, it has been decided to operate with four instead of three teams as previously planned. Rosters for the new setup will be announced Wednesday.

Games on Wednesday will include the Phillies vs. White Sox at 7 o'clock and Cardinals vs. Yankees under the lights.

DAFFY DOINGS NOT EXCLUSIVE WITH DODGERS

New York, June 26 (AP)—Every thing happens at Ebbets Field, eh?

A jam-packed crowd of 71,289—largest ever to attend an exhibition game—can challenge you on that. It witnessed something last night that rivals any zany stunt ever pulled in the Brooklyn Dodgers' park. It happened in Yankee Stadium, of all places.

The culprits? None other than the proud and conservative world champion New York Yankees.

This is the play-by-play account: Just A Single

The Yankees and Dodgers were deadlocked at 3-3 with New York at bat in the 10th inning. The bases were loaded with nobody out. Pinch-hitter Gene Woodling smashed a long drive into the right field seats.

A grand slam homer? Nope. Just a little single.

How's that you say?

As Woodling was rounding first, he passed Hank Bauer who had stopped between first and second to congratulate his teammate. This action limited the blow to a single.

Phil Rizzuto, however, scored from third with the run needed to win. The score was New York 4, Brooklyn 3.

And they call the Dodgers daffy! The Yankee-Dodger game highlighted a series of seven exhibition games involving major league teams.

Manager Marty Marion gave his ailing knee the first test of the season when he played four innings at shortstop as the St. Louis Cards lost a 5-3 contest to their Omaha Western league farm hands.

Phils Beat A's
Monte Irvin and Bobby Thomson drove in two runs each to lead the New York Giants to a 5-4 victory team.

Kiner May Be Out With Foot Injury

Pittsburgh, June 26 (AP)—Outfielder Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates left today with the team for Cincinnati although he is suffering from a recurrence of a foot injury suffered a month ago.

Whether Kiner will play against the Reds tonight is problematical. He has been complaining of an injury to his left instep, suffered a month ago as he slid back into second while playing in Chicago against the Chicago Cubs.

Last night Kiner played one inning in left field as the Bucs defeated the Cleveland Indians 5-2 in an exhibition game. He left the game to go to Presbyterian hospital for an X-ray examination. The results were not disclosed immediately.

REMEMBERED PERFUME

Not only were we endowed with the ability to smell, in order to give us protection, but we were given this gift that we might the more appreciate the beauty and grandeur of the products of this earth.

How pungent are the odors and perfumes of the Springtime! As though the very earth felt impelled to spray them out. What universal fragrance, everywhere evident! Fruit and flower blossoms vying with each other for the presentations of their special perfumes.

From early youth we become acquainted with the many odors that fill the air. And we remember these smells throughout our lives, with satisfaction and pleasure. How very wonderful that no two smells are exactly alike, though many may remind us of others. As though each had a language, which each does, but a silent one.

The late David Grayson (Ray Stannard Baker) once said he considered the wild grape blossoms, "of all odors, the sweetest." But I am sure we all have our favorites. I like the smell of orange blossoms and the romantic stir they give to the mind. But every perfume in nature I love. Each fills me with wonder.

As a boy I used to gather sap from the maples and boil it down into delicious syrup. I can smell the odor of that sap and the maple as it became more and more near to sugar. It seems to me the present product does not have either the odor or the taste it had when I was the sole family maker of it, in honest fashion.

All through the summer months, as well, do we experience the delight of much fragrance, like the smell of the earth after a good rain, and the many odors from all gardens. Then in the autumn is that fascinating smell of burning leaves that fills the air, though there is a sadness connected with this that tells of the coming of winter.

There are certain concentrated perfumes that are manufactured that we never forget, once they have been connected with some event, or person, such as the one first loved!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Everybody's Silent Club"

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

"THE PEOPLE"
This for "the people" I would say:
They can be trusted, come what may.

Though often they may be deceived
By those in whom they have believed,
On them depend upon we can
To vote for a courageous man.

From men who promise to betray,
Eventually they'll turn away.
The man who dares to serve the right

They will support with all their might.
Not long their favor is conferred
On men who will not keep their word.

"The people" quickly recognize
The truth from shrew and subtle lies.

They know the weak; they know
the strong.
They know what's right and what is wrong.

And can be trusted to select
For office men they can respect.

Moscow's Pravda Urges Korean Peace

Moscow, June 26 (AP)—Pravda printed an editorial today urging peaceful settlement of the Korean conflict.

The official Communist party newspaper, in the first Soviet press comment on the matter, gave its full approval to the proposal of Jacob A. Malik, Soviet United Nations delegate, who proposed in a New York radio address Saturday that the belligerents in Korea discuss a cease-fire.

Pravda said: "The cessation of war activity and the peaceful settlement of the conflict in Korea will remove one of the most important causes of tension in the present international situation."

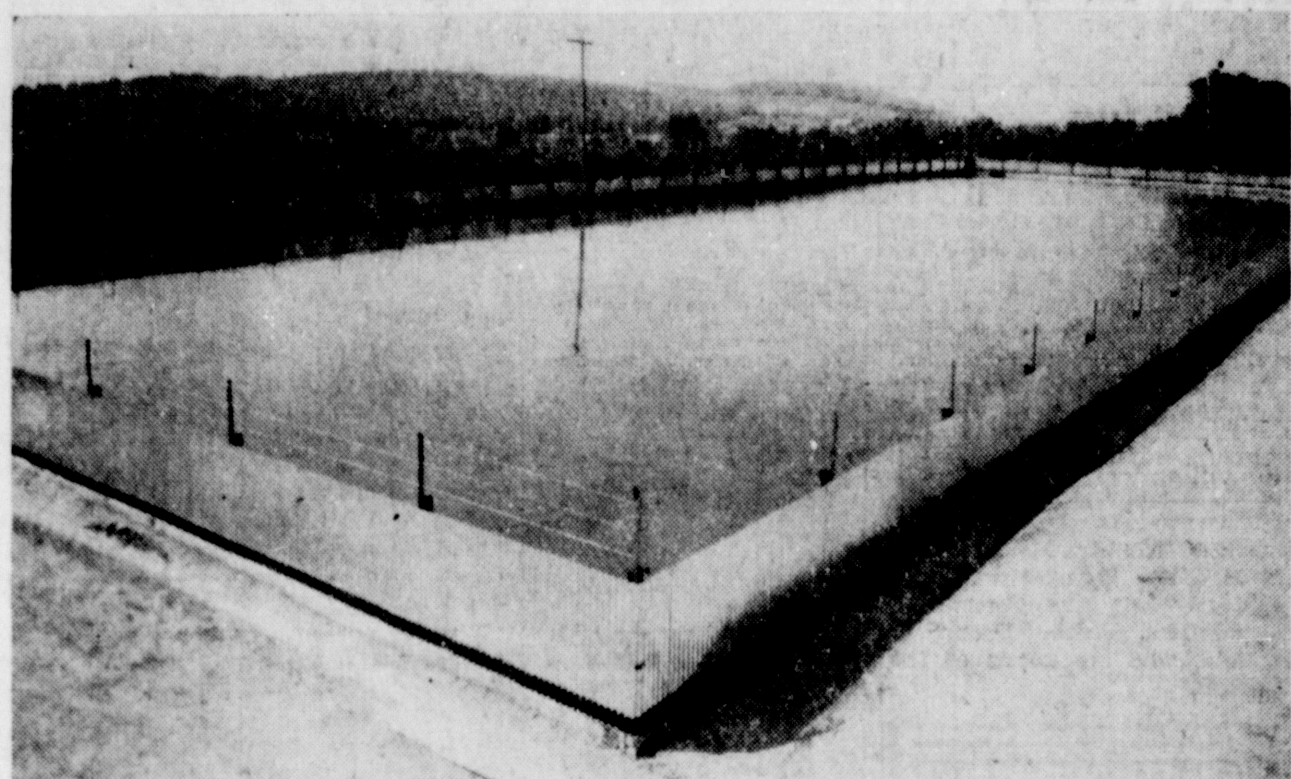

"At the same time it will give the opportunity to the Korean people to return to a peaceful life and arrange their own affairs."

Ridgway Makes His Usual Trip To Korea

Tokyo, June 26 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway flew to Korea and back today but said his trip had nothing to do with a Soviet proposal for Korean cease-fire negotiations. "This was just another one of my usual trips," the supreme commander said. "I had no connection with anything regarding a cease-fire."

Ridgway visited the battlefield and conferred briefly with Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth

New Reservoir At Knouse Foods

Knouse Foods, at Peach Glen, recently completed the new reservoir pictured above. It is located a short distance south of the plant. With a capacity of three million gallons, it will supplement the sources of well water already available for processing the company's Lucky Leaf apple products during peak production periods. The walls are of concrete construction and topped with a high corrugated aluminum and barbed wire fence. Terraces surrounding the reservoir have been seeded and additional landscaping will be added in the near future.

YOUNG BRIDE IS ASSAULTED BY TWO GUNMEN

Arlington, Va., June 26 (AP)—A 19-year-old bride of ten days was abducted from her bed early today by two gunmen who, she told police, took her to a scenic spot 10 miles away and attacked her. Mrs. James Hotchkiss said that after the alleged attacks she was driven back near her ground-floor apartment and dumped out of the car. Records indicate she is the daughter of a socially prominent Winnetka, Ill., family.

She was found by Lt. W. Lynn Smith of the Arlington police, who had her rushed by ambulance to Arlington hospital.

There she told doctors each man attacked her twice. Less than an hour later police picked up John Robert Polk, 19, of Arlington, and charged him with kidnapping.

Youths Admit Charge

Police described Polk as a man long known to them for what they called a series of minor charges.

They said he admitted that both he and his companion attacked the young bride. Shortly afterwards, William Robert Payne, 19, of Bethesda, Md., was picked up by Fairfax county police and also charged with kidnapping.

Payne, police said, had left Polk and Polk's car after the alleged attacks. They said he was frightened, and decided to hitchhike back to town. He was picked up by a police automobile.

Police said Polk told them he had planned to kill Mrs. Hotchkiss, but that his gun, a .22 rifle, jammed when he tried to pull the trigger.

An examination of the gun, police said, showed it had in fact jammed. The hospital said Mrs. Hotchkiss, who was hysterical, had severe bruises on her neck and shoulders.

The attractive blonde told doctors the two men had choked and strangled her to keep her from crying out.

Calls Self Killer

Hotchkiss, a naval ensign, gave newsmen this account: One of the men appeared at the open window of the couple's Colonial Village apartment, waving a gun.

"Get out of there," Hotchkiss quoted the gunman as saying. "I'll count to three."

The gunman never actually entered the apartment, Hotchkiss said, but simply raised the screen and called his order.

Mrs. Hotchkiss stepped over to and out the window. A neighbor told police he overheard the man say: "Be quiet. I'm a killer."

Mrs. Hotchkiss said the men drove her to Great Falls, a well-known scenic spot 10 miles up the Potomac river, where she said the alleged attacks took place.

U.N. Secretary Is Flying To New York

Oslo, Norway, June 26 (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, boarded a plane here today to return to U.N. headquarters in New York. He interrupted his vacation here because of the Soviet bid for a cease-fire in the Korean war.

Asked what he thought of the chances of peace in Korea, Lie told reporters: "That's what I'm going to find out." He said he would confer on the matter during a stopover in London enroute back to New York, but he would not say with whom he would confer.

A reporter asked Lie if he would take part in any U.N. Security council meeting on the Soviet proposal. He said no, that it would be a subject for the General Assembly.

The Security Council has removed the subject from its agenda, making it a matter for assembly consideration.

Army commander. Ridgway told correspondents in Korea: "Nowhere am I as happy as over here. I like to get over as often as possible."

Dividend Declared By Farm Loan Group

Raymond R. Utz, president of The National Farm Loan Association of York, comprising Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Perry and York counties, announced that the association's board of directors had declared a 3% dividend, payable to stockholders of record as of the close of business June 30. The dividend is to be disbursed to the stockholders at their annual meeting to be held at the South Mountain Fairgrounds August 9.

The directors of the association are, in addition to Mr. Utz: Samuel B. Firebaugh, of New Freedom, vice president; W. Clayton Jester, of Biglerville, John A. Lowry, of Mont Alto, and S. Blaine Lehman, of Carlisle.

TRUCK BILL IS NEARING VOTE

Harrisburg, June 26 (AP)—A bill to increase legal truck weights in Pennsylvania today was pushed a little closer toward a final vote in the Senate.

Sen. John G. Snowden (R-Lycoming), chairman of the Senate Highways committee, said he believed amendments now inserted in the measure would gain it the approval of the Highways department.

The bill was altered yesterday to require the unloading of single and tandem axle trucks found to be overloaded.

The measure, sponsored by Sens. Guy Robinson (R-Susquehanna) and John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland), would boost the weight limits for the most commonly used trucks from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds.

It would maintain the present top for trucks of all types at 62,000 pounds, however, and crack down on violators by making penalties more severe.

The bill was amended earlier to remove a five per cent tolerance on tandem-axle semi-trailers and to reduce from 40,000 to 36,000 pounds the weight to be permitted on the rear tandem axles.

Provided no further amendments are offered the measure could move into position for final Senate passage tomorrow.

Measure Sets Up Drug Cure Centers

Harrisburg, June 26 (AP)—A measure to set up certain state hospitals as cure centers for drug addicts was on its way through the House today.

The House Health committee started the measure moving yesterday by giving it a stamp of approval. The bill would leave to the Department of Welfare the task of designating the specific hospitals where patients would be treated.

Sponsored by Reps. Louis A. Sax (R-Phila.) and George A. Sarraf (R-Allegheny), the measure follows to the House floor another bill sharply increasing the penalties to be imposed on a person convicted of selling drugs illegally. The penalties bill was passed unanimously and sent to the Senate.

Other measures winning committee approval yesterday would: Increase the expense allotments for state legislators.

Appropriate $350,000 to the state bonus bureau for administrative expenses until January 1, 1952.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Report On GI Classes

Lloyd E. Crouse, Littlestown, was re-elected treasurer of the county board Monday and Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., was renamed as attorney to the county board at a salary of $100 a year.

Richard C. Lighter, supervisor of agricultural education, reported that the last class in the Veterans agricultural training program will begin July 15. There are 110 county veterans undergoing the GI training at the present time, he added, the largest enrollment in the history of the classes. All of the training will have been completed by July 5, 1956. About 12 of the veterans currently undergoing the training will have completed the instruction by Christmas, he said.

Superintendent Slaybaugh reported that he and Assistant Superintendent Charles I. Raffensperger have completed their annual visitations to all schools, and have visited all teachers, with the exception of six who were ill during the superintendent's tour. They traveled about 10,000 miles so far in connection with school business, he said.

Superintendent Slaybaugh reported that Mount Joy township had entered into a jointure with Gettysburg as well as Littlestown and has changed the dividing line for students within the township, which will send about 70 percent of the students in the township to Gettysburg.

Plan To Cost More

Because of the change in the dividing line from that set by the county plan of a few years ago, the change will have to be approved by the county board and the state council of education before it can be carried out, the county board learned. The board tabled action on the matter until it can learn the opinion of the state council. The proposed plan for a change in Mt. Joy township's school attendance will cost the township, unless some-

Lots Of Goose

(Continued from Page 1) afternoon I saw a tractor for sale in Littlestown and told the owner that I would call him that evening if I was going to buy it. I saw Mr. Bream and told him I had a tractor. He said I could have the farm. So I became a farmer."

That was in 1942. Smith had a tractor but had never driven one before. "I'd never plowed a furrow with or without a tractor," he says, "but I had to do something so I advertised to do custom plowing."

That decision led him into becoming the first commercial hatcher of geese in the United States—a field that now has a large number of practitioners.

Smith got into the goose business this way: He was plowing for a man named Martin who had a Toulouse goose, an Emden gander, and the couple had produced a cross-bred gosling.

2,000-egg Mistake Smith admired the geese, Martin said — "I'll give you the geese for the plowing," and that's the way Goose Gay farms were born.

Told that no one could hatch goose eggs in an incubator, Smith purchased a 50-egg incubator from a mail order company just to have something to do with the eggs that were appearing constantly about the place.

The experiment was a success and the next year he bought a 350-egg incubator to keep up with the excess of eggs coming from his geese. The business was still strictly local.

Then he decided to try a 2,000-egg incubator and the company, in error, sent him a 4,000-egg incubator.

Incubator In Living Room Smith, never a man to deny that opportunity was knocking, decided to go into the business wholesale.

Not having any place to put the big incubator, he put it in his living room—where it rests to this day, along with two other geese incubators and a large duck incubator which occupy other rooms in the house.

He advertised for custom hatching for geese and found himself flooded with orders. At that time no one in the country was doing custom hatching of goose eggs. The incubator hatching calls for the eggs to be placed in one side of the incubator for about 25 days, during which the eggs are turned every three hours day and night. At the end of that time they are candled and the fertile eggs placed in another section where they finish hatching in about eight days. The infertile eggs make excellent fertilizer.

Duck Business Next Business was pouring in from throughout the U. S. — and that's the way he got into the duck hatching business.

Mrs. Laura Gantz, of Upperco, Md., who is secretary of the American Water Fowl association and a fancier of ducks, saw his ad about hatching goslings, and wondered if he could do some custom hatching of duck eggs. He tried it, was successful and has been in the duck egg hatching since.

This year, to keep ahead of the competition which had grown considerably in the last two years,

Smith is advertising a new specialty, a non-flying Muscovy duck. He guarantees that they won't fly — but says how he keeps them from flying is a trade secret.

He raises Emden, Toulouse, and White and Brown China goslings and Muscovy and Khaki Campbell ducklings.

Ships to Italy The Khaki Campbell duck he describes as "the best egg laying fowl in the world." The official record for one of the ducks, he notes, is 366 eggs in 365 days.

He has been shipping larger numbers of the Khaki Campbell eggs to Italy, where it is hoped that the ducks may help that country to solve its problem of large population versus small acreage for production.

He also has sent eggs to Greece, both goose and duck, with the Greeks ordering them to help replace the fowl killed off when Hitler's troops overran that country.

Farming Out His Geese He also has sent geese to Caracas, Venezuela, first an order of 50, which was followed by an order for another 100 and another order of 100 from there.

Smith says the buyers from overseas must have seen his advertising in nationally circulated American farm magazines.

The Straban township farmer has cut down on the number of geese and ducks kept on the farm. Until recently he had 500. Now he has cut that number to 200, "farming out" 300 others to nearby farms. The birds need grass, he said, and it is becoming impossible to provide enough grass on his own acreage.

Endless Search for Eggs For the ducks and geese, life has become even more popular on Goose Gay farms. Smith has added a four-acre farm pond, which the fowl find very much to their liking.

One of the birds of which he is proudest is "John L. Sullivan." Now 21 years of age, "John" is still strong and hardy and this year has taken a new wife. Last year Smith sold off "John's" former "wife," and Smith confessed, "He followed me around all summer — made me feel awfully mean."

Mrs. Smith, a Newark, N. J., native, says that the farm is very pleasant. She adds that the business provides a perpetual egg hunt — just like Easter all the time. The hens hide their eggs after laying them. To get them for hatching the Smiths have to wage a constant search.

Enemy Shell Fires Load Of Explosives

With U.S. 25th Division, Korea, June 26 (AP)—A direct enemy hit fire to a U.S. howitzer tractor loaded with 24 rounds of high explosive shells and 130 gallons of gasoline.

It was within easy range of at least 50 men of a field artillery battalion.

Sgt. Walter Frazier, East Brady, Pa., jumped into another tractor, hooked on to the flaming vehicle and towed it a safe distance.

He dived back into his foxhole just as the first of the 155-millimeter shells on the burning tractor began to explode.

Not a man in the battalion was injured when the lot went up with a bang.

thing can be worked out with the state board, about $15,000 more per year, according to estimates made by members of the Mt. Joy board together with officials from the Littlestown and Gettysburg schools.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Ralph Flickinger, Littlestown R. D., was attired in an eggshell sharkskin suit with lavender accessories. She carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid, from which fell eggshell colored streamers and lavender sweet peas. The maid of honor wore a powder green nylon dress with white accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

CATTLE-All classes of livestock except calves were offered buyers in smaller numbers than a week ago and a year ago. Demand good. Prices generally steady. Monday's count but fell short of the volume received a year ago. Cattle receipts augmented by about 250 head held from late last week. Salable supply included a larger percentage of slaughter steers than recently as the majority of eight loads of steers and ten loads of stock cattle was counted in.

Heifers offered mainly in odd lots and single head shipments. Small numbers mostly steady with good grades, $30-$35. Utility and commercial, $24-$29.

COWS-Market firm. Demand good. Commercial grades, relatively scarce but largely $28-$29. Few head $29.50 and $30. Utility offerings, $24-$27, and head climbed to $28. Most of canners and cullers $19, but strong weight cutters noted upward to $25 or above and a few canners sometimes dipped below $18.

There was no change in selling level for hogs, somewhat similar to that in cattle department as far as activity was concerned. Prices generally steady with slight Thursday gain. Most of the week's supply was sold by the noon hour. Few small lots of medium and good stocker steers, $14-$16. Most of the week's supply was sold by the noon hour. Few small lots of medium and good stocker steers, $14-$16. Most of common and medium, $13-$15, and a few lots of inferior Southern calves, $22-$26.50.

HOGS-Trading in hog division extremely active throughout the week. Sales in opening rounds were steady to 25c. lower on practically all weights and grades but the closing trade generally 25c. under last Friday's quotations. Few lots of good and choice 170-230 pound barrows and gilts, $24.50 in early dealings but the closing trade, $24.25 and most of sales $24-24.25; 240-260 pounds, $21.50-$23.75; few early, $24; 260-300 pounds, $21.75-$25; few early, $23.50; 320-350 pounds, $22.50, depending on weight and condition but most sales ranged from $21.25. Few 120-140 pounds, $21.50 in opening rounds but sales, $20.75-$21.25; 140-160 pounds, $22.25-$23.25, mostly $23 down.

Now less than 400 pounds, $20.25-$20.75 but a few sales early $21 and a few lots of choice around $30 pounds and lighter, $21.25. Most of the good 400-450 pounds, $19.25-$19.75; few early to $20. Over 450 pounds from $19, with most sales $18.75 down. Stags generally discounted $3 from price of same weight sows.

SHEEP-Spring lambs made up the big percentage of the receipts. In the sheep department and the small number moved to a fairly early clearance at generally steady prices compared with last Friday's quotations. Choice and prime 80-92 pounds, $34 to mostly $35; top, $35. A few small lots of good and choice shorn slaughter ewes, $12-$15.

er's own produce from farm-to-farm or to a distribution point without a license. But the farmer must obtain a permit for such travel over the highways, and must have the truck inspected.

The inspection, they added "is to guarantee that the truck is safe for operation on the road." The permit is to prevent general operation by anyone without a license. Forms for the permits can be obtained from justices of the peace.

Warn About Young Drivers

Both policemen deplored the practice of allowing youngsters of 12 or 14 years of age to operate tractors from farm-to-farm over public highways. "You may feel that the boy can drive the tractor without difficulty on the farm, but remember that there he has plenty of room. For the safety of the child and your own equipment, don't let him drive on the highways."

Howard Waybright, a member of the Pennsylvania Farmers association state committee, reported on the recent election of Clarence M. Wilson, of Iowa, as state secretary and opening of an office at Harrisburg. Waybright spoke briefly. President George Haenn presided.

Assemblyman H. Earl Pitzer was unable to attend the meeting because of a night session of the House.
